PRO BONO SPOTLIGHT

JEFF DOROCAK

CITY ATTORNEY,
LAS VEGAS CITY ATTORNEY'S OFFICE

PRO BONO CASES I ENJOY: I enjoy leading the Southern Nevada Senior Law Program Estate Planning Workshop because the participating seniors come from all walks of life, and they all have different circumstances and reasons for starting the estate planning process. A senior never holds back with a question, comment, or story—and that makes every workshop fun and unique.

WHAT I LEARNED: As a municipal attorney, I don't get to work with estate laws. My wills and trusts knowledge is limited to what I learned in law school or researched for family members here or there. As a result, I learn something new at every workshop because I'll always get at least one new angle or set of facts from a senior that requires some homework on my part.

HOW I SERVE: No matter how busy I think I am—there are at least a few hours in the month that I can use to help. I enjoy pro bono because I get to engage with subject matter and people with whom I might not otherwise interact in the normal work week.

MY TAKEAWAY: There is always something an attorney can do to help at least one person in Nevada. Whether estate planning, child welfare, or myriad other programs and services, every member of the Nevada bar has the skillset to contribute and help someone out—even if they think they don't.

FAVORITE ACTIVITIES: Watching movies, exercising, and being at home with my partner and dogs.

FINAL THOUGHT: Some of our community's unsung heroes are the staff members of our pro bono and legal services programs. Their selfless dedication is contagious and makes pro bono work enjoyable.
